Registration Of Miners Conducted Wednesday

A provincial government delegation headed by Highways Minister G. Taylor arrived in Coleman Tuesday to look into the rehabilitation of unemployed miners.

The delegates met with the town council, UMW and the Coal operators. The purpose of the visit is to make a general reconnaissance of the situation, and they will remain here as long as it is necessary.

Wednesday morning the committee conducted a registration of unemployed miners. Shortly after opening the council chambers were packed and the registration underway.

Questions asked related to age, marital status number of dependents, if a property owner, work done other than mining, prospects of employment, and if willing to work on a farm.

In an interview with Mr. Taylor the Journal was shown a copy of Bill No. 122 that provides for $100,000 to be used for the rehabilitation of any miners in the province.

When asked if the government had considered another industry here to solve the problem, the Minister replied that they have considered and even made overtures to industry. However, he stated, you cannot force an industry to locate in a certain area.

When asked as to hopes for the prospects of an industry, Mr. Taylor didn't feel they were too bright. However he did feel that the locating of a large Petro-Chemical industry at Pincher Creek might possibly benefit this area.

Ed McCurdy doesn't want to be hog-tied to the cowboy category but he's tall and mellow in the saddle as one of Canada's foremost ballad singers. While McCurdy doesn't own any dogies, he has collected several thousand ballads. He aims to preserve and encourage genuine folk songs. "Folk songs," says McCurdy, "should be sung person to person rather than roared to a mass audience." McCurdy enters many Canadian radio homes via "Trans-Canada Matinee," and other radio shows.

COMMITTEE IN TOWN STUDYING PLIGHT OF MINERS

A four member investigation committee, headed by Highways Minister Taylor arrived here Tuesday to study the plight of the 300 miners left unemployed as the result of the shut-down here. Committee members are W. A. R. Rees, director of single men's relief; Mine Director J. A. Dutton, and J. A. Ferguson, provincial immigration supervisor.

Meeting with town officials, the coal company and the local union, the committee will probe the best methods of using the $100,000 voted by the Alberta government for the rehabilitation of the miners. It was to make a study of the number of men out of work, their marital status, whether they are home owners, and also the means of finding them other employment. The findings and recommendations will be placed before the provincial cabinet.

Council Asks Clarification For Reduced Assessment In I. D.

A preview of things to come unless conditions change was shown at the regular council meeting Tuesday night when the governing body was faced with a request for relief for a local lady. Fully aware of the costs of living at the present time, and mindful that her present income posed somewhat of a problem for her, council realized that the council does not have the reserves to assist and therefore start a precedent, the case was refused.

At the last regular meeting council appointed a pound keeper and were prepared to end the nuisance of stray horses. Since that time it has been noticed that the existing by-law is out-dated, both in fines to levy and regulations. In this regard the secretary was instructed to draw up a suitable by-law and present it to the next meeting.

A second by-law that will be introduced is in regards to speeding by non-residents of the town.

It was pointed out that under the present system should a tourist be picked up on a speeding charge he is sometimes faced with the hardship of staying over for two or three days until his case comes up. The police committee were instructed to look into the matter of some plan whereby these people could be fined at the time and allowed to proceed on their journey.

Correspondence brought a reply from the Director of Assessments in regards the lowering of assessments in the Improvement District with the result that the town school requisition climbed by $4,000 whereas the I. D. dropped $1,000. Various aspects of the injustice were considered such as West Coleman residents being equally as far from the centre of the town as those people residing in East Coleman, yet they must pay the higher assessment of the town under the present arrangement. Portions of the letter and statements were not presenting a clear enough picture for the council, therefore the secretary was instructed to write asking that these matters be clarified.

Clean up in Coleman promises to be a big event this year, with the council setting aside the period May 1 to 23 as the usual clean up period. In addition to the service supplied by the town as in past years, it is expected that the fire department will carry out an extensive campaign.

The police report was read and accepted, showing 83 complaints received and attended to, and 99 warnings issued. $144 in fines were collected under the Highway Traffic Act and the Liquor Control Act. In conjunction with this report the chief recommended that no parking signs be placed in front of the fire hall. The matter of signs or the establishing of a fire lane will be considered by the police committee.

School Board Met Last Wednesday

Coleman School Board met in regular session Wednesday night handling routine business.

Correspondence showed that a new grant had been received from the government with an increase this year of $6,538.00 which will serve to reduce the requisition on both the town of Coleman and the Improvement District.

Mrs. Shevels applied for three months leave of absence due to illness, this being granted. Discussion arising from this decision considered the possibility of losing teachers this year and a probable decline in school population. The board felt that nothing could be determined as to teacher needs for the coming term until the picture of conditions locally becomes clearer.

The Field Administrative Officer of the Department of Education wrote stating that estimates had been examined and accepted.

Mr. Allen's report showed total enrollment for the month to be 640 with an average attendance of 97.4% and the announcement that a few children are dropping out of school each week as the result of the mine shutdown.

Coleman Lions Club wrote stating that they would sponsor scholarships of $25, $15, and $10, to the top three students in grade 11 again this year. It was felt at this time that the present School Board scholarship of an award to the top girl and the top boy be changed to cover the top three students regardless of sex.

Career Night was set for May 5th with the Annual Program scheduled for May 21.

Regina Actress Pleased To Be Chosen For Stratford Festival

LONDON. — Regina actress Frances Hyland said she thinks it's "absolutely magnificent" that she will be appearing at the Stratford, Ont., Shakespearean festival this summer with James Mason. "I'm just on my way down to arrange my liner passage," said Miss Hyland in a telephone interview from Liverpool, where she is appearing as Dame Edith Evans' daughter in the Christopher Fry play "The Dark is Light Enough".

Miss Hyland, 25, expects to sail in mid-April. She will visit her mother in Regina—it will be her first trip home since she made her debut four years ago—and arrive at Stratford after a "week or two."

The slight, blonde actress was signed to play the female lead opposite Mason in "Measure for Measure" and other productions at the second Stratford festival in July and August.

She thinks she will leave the cast of the Fry play the last week in March, before it arrives at London's West End. "They are looking now for someone to take my place," Miss Hyland said. "It will give me a bit of a hollow feeling to leave the cast—it has been tremendous fun." Miss Hyland said.

Miss Hyland was signed for the festival by producer Tyrone Guthrie on his second try. He approached her several months ago, but she was already slated to appear in the present play.

SHADES OF LAST GREAT WEST

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta. —Shades of the days when the Peace River country was known nationally as "the last great West" came to light recently with the announcement of an estimated 4,500 homesteads have been taken up in "the Peace" in the last 10 years.

T. J. Gorman, of the Department of Lands and Forests office in Grande Prairie, estimated one thousand homesteads made up another 3,500 leases had been issued.

Of a total of 4,218 homestead leases granted in Alberta in the last 10 years, more than half were said to be in the Peace River Country.

Farmers Produce About 20 Million Bushels Of Mustard Seed Each Year

REGINA.—Farmers in western Canada produce about 20,000,000 bushels of mustard seed each year, H. W. Leggett, of the Regina experimental sub station told the agricultural short course here.

Speaking of the urgency to control the spread of wild oats, he said approximately 75 per cent of the cultivated acreage of western Canada is infested with the weed to some extent. He labelled wild oats as the major weed menace of western Canada.

Oldtimer Sees Change In Morden

MORDEN, Man. —"You'll never know it was the same town," said Donald McDonald on a visit back. Of course, he said, the fact that he had left Morden, along with Bert Chubbie, to serve his country in the Boer War in 1902 and had made only visits here since would account for the difference he sees.

So long in fact, that Mr. McDonald, who is now over 80 years of age, found no one he knew. There were some suggestions as to some residents he could look up, but Mr. McDonald had only a short time before his bus left for his home at Portage la Prairie. During his residence in Morden Mr. McDonald worked for the late Wm. Johnston.

12-Year-Old Girl Saves Four Of Family

FORESTBURG, Alta.—A cool-headed 12-year-old girl was credited with saving the lives of four younger brothers and sisters when fire destroyed their parents' farm home in this district 80 miles southwest of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kroetch were away from home on business when the fire developed. Evelyn, 12, awakened the four youngsters, ranging in age from two to eight, bundled them into a tractor and drove them more than a mile to neighbors. None was harmed.

Prairie Budgets Show New High Records

EDMONTON.—Two of the three prairie provinces have announced their budgets for the 1954-55 fiscal year. Alberta plans spending a record $205,000,000 and Saskatchewan $78,000,000, the highest in its history. Manitoba, which estimated expenditures at $54,500,000 in the current fiscal year, has not announced its planned appropriations for the fiscal year beginning April 1st.

Rye will grow under conditions of drought, heat and soil poverty which prevent the growing of wheat.

GET A HORSE! — The trotting oxen cover the track at Alsing, Bavaria, at a speed of five m.p.h. as number 5, who seems to be looking for last place, puts on a last-minute spurt to win. The "Oxen-Derby" has been a tradition there since 1850.

Manitoba Businessmen Forecast Continued High Level Of Sales

Sixty new industries commenced operation in Manitoba in 1953 and an estimated $23 million of private capital was invested in new and expanded manufacturing facilities. Hon. R. D. Turner, Minister of Industry and Commerce, stated in a review of industrial expansion for the year.

Outlook for 1954, based on a questionnaire survey sent out to 1,500 manufacturing firms, is for continued high level of production with further expansion in some fields, he reported. Replies to the questionnaire came from the high proportion of 45 per cent of firms canvassed with practically all the larger firms in the province co-operating in the survey.

Clothing and textiles were chief products produced by the newly established industries, followed by iron and steel products. Food, paper products, chemical and other industries made up the balance.

An important development of the past year was the amalgamation of Western Pipe Lines and Trans-Canada Pipe Lines into one company—the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited—to transport gas from Alberta to Manitoba and Eastern Canada, Mr. Turner stated.

Availability of natural gas in Manitoba can help attract new industries to the province, Mr. Turner noted, and the department is publicizing the many industrial opportunities which will arise with the advent of natural gas to Manitoba.

Fifty-five per cent of the firms reporting on the survey indicated increased sales over 1952, with only 24 per cent reporting a decrease. Forty-four per cent forecast a rise in sales in 1954 and 11 per cent expect a decrease.

Most optimistic are manufacturers of chemical and allied and

Tractor Major Farm Killer

REGINA.—The tractor is one of the major killers on Saskatchewan farms, Prof. O. L. Symes of the agricultural engineering department, University of Saskatchewan, said at an agricultural short course here.

"We haven't gone very far in farm safety and it's high time we did something about it," he declared.

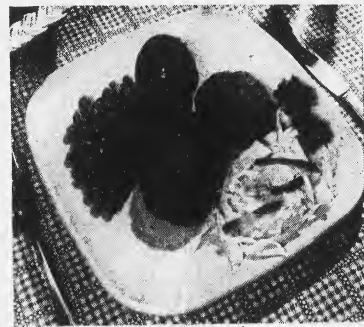

He said 104 persons were killed in farm accidents in Saskatchewan last year, more than those who died of polio. Thirty deaths were caused by tractors.

ARTIFICIAL ICE PLANNED FOR CURLING NEXT WINTER

BROOKS, Alta. — The uncertainty of good curling weather with constant chinooks as in the past winter has prompted the Brooks Curling club to take immediate steps to buy an artificial ice plant and have it ready for operation by next season.

Manitoba's Oil Production Topping 100,000-Barrel Mark

For the third month in succession Manitoba's production of crude oil topped the 100,000-barrel mark in January. In that month total production was 106,801 barrels, down somewhat from the December high of 114,059 barrels but higher than the November total of 102,801 barrels. In January last year total production was 43,091 barrels.

Up to the end of January Manitoba oil wells had produced a total of 881,947 barrels of crude. By now the millionth barrel has likely been produced.

Cold weather in January as well as allowances held down production somewhat. With new higher allowances in effect and with new wells coming into production, March figures should be considerably higher than December's record.

At the end of January Manitoba's producing wells numbered 99. During that month seven new wells—three in the Virde-Rosealea field, three in the Daly field and one wildcat—were listed in the Department of Mines and Natural Resources oil report on production for the first time.

Production in the Daly field decreased from 91,732 barrels in December to 76,854 barrels in January (due mainly to allowances) but in the Virde-Rosealea field production jumped from 19,000 to 26,270 during that month. Wildcat production rose from 2,334 to 3,697 barrels.

Biggest single producer in January was Canadian Superior's Thomson 15-32 in the Virde-Rosealea field. Second biggest was Canadian Pipe Lines' Producers' well Crickshaw No. 5 with 3,523 barrels. Close behind were Canadian Superior's Thomson 9-32 with 3,426 barrels and Thomson 16-32 with 3,288 barrels and California Standard's Daly Prov. 3-12 with 3,308 barrels.

In the Virde-Rosealea field the top producer for January was the B.A. Union Grose No. 1 with 2,475 barrels. A new producer, P.A. Union Grose 3-27 was close with 2,423 barrels. Eight other wells in this field each produced well over 2,000 barrels.

The only wildcat in the province to produce more than 1,000 barrels during January was Calistan Sealion Prov. 3-11 with 2,151 barrels. Canadian Devonian Heburn No. 1 produced 602 barrels and Calistan Whitewater 12-16 gave 729 barrels.

A summary of February production shows 19 new producers—10 in the Virde-Rosealea field, three in the Virde-Rosealea and six wildcats. Three wildcats were abandoned—Virde Empire Advance.

Recovery Tips For Play-Off Hockey

The team or player who utilizes any rest period to the full will have an edge over his opponents who do not. Therefore, every possible method should be used to organize the rest periods so that the fullest possible benefit is gained. An ideal procedure is as follows.

1. Loosen any tight equipment and take the skates right off.
2. Do a little stretching to avoid muscle tightening.
3. Use relaxation drills to eliminate tension and promote speed of recovery.
4. Rest with the feet as high as possible over the head. An ideal position is to lie on the back with the feet propped up against the wall. This is a very effective way of getting rid of the venal blood in the legs and eliminate congestion of fatigue acids. It is one sure way of making the legs feel peppy again.
5. Application of cold towels over the heart will hasten recovery because it will act as a stimulant, helping the heart to do its job of recovery more quickly and slowing down the heart beat. Brisk circular surface massage over the heart is also a help.

6. The dressing room should be kept as quiet as possible and all fans and followers should be kept out. No smoking should be allowed. The air should be as fresh as possible (a rule frequently broken).

7. Players should not be talked to or instructed until they have had a chance to settle down. The keynote of the first five minutes should always be the establishment of the highest level of relaxation possible.

The players should not be allowed to shout or talk but should concentrate on relaxing in order to give their bodies every opportunity to recover.

Putting On Weight

Athletes, especially young ones, are always interested in putting on more weight for football, hockey or general apparel. The best bet is to start a system of weightlifting together with an increase of 1500 to 2500 calories per day in the regular diet. This extra food should consist mainly of the protein foods especially milk, cheese and ice cream. Also supplement your milk and eggs (when scrambled) with dried milk powder.

Stocking Up With Energy

Yes, trainers the world over have stated that by the best all round food for building up a reserve and ever ready supply of energy is to make honey a regular part of your diet. The best way to include honey in your diet is to use it for sweetening other parts of your diet, such as putting it on toast, in cereals and in any other way in which sweetening is required.

PICTURE WINDOWS

It is a lovely house; brand new from tip to toe. With bathroom, gleaming white and kitchen aglow; Rich carpets on the floor; Oranges in matching hue. Everything for comfort there, with labor savers too.

It is a lovely house; that fact I'll not deny. But something more thrilling yet I'd catch my eye. Great windows to the west pictur'd a changing sky. Like some vast masterpiece from days gone by.

Field, trees and winding trails darkening with coming night. Lay there before our views—a glorious sight! Those windows most of all would hold me day by day. Watching the changing scenes of Nature's play.

Directions for size of doses printed on medicine bottles and written on prescription labels still read, "a teaspoonful" or "a tablespoonful". Now some physicians claim that both teaspoons and tablespoons have been made smaller by some manufacturers. Therefore, many people following the spoon system are not getting the right doses of medicine. Some organizations are furnishing "medicine spoons" with bottles. These are made of plastic and are exactly the right size for a "teaspoonful" or a "tablespoonful" dose.

Horses and Women

Hosey manufacturers might as well face it. The overwhelming majority of members of the female sex are completely certain that the quality of nylon stockings is nothing like what it used to be. The ladies are also highly indignant because of their being accused for the short life of nylons by careless handling of the same. One woman, for example, says she has bestowed nearly as much on her nylons as on a newborn child, yet a pair doesn't last her one-third as long as formerly.

Jim Daugherty, husband of Marilyn Monroe, says he has no particular outstanding memories of Marilyn as a spouse except she served carrots and peas for dinner every night because she thought they looked pretty together on a plate.

According To Hoyle

Have heard of a woman of 40 who has just become the mother of triplets. Her name is Mrs. Margaret Murphy. Her husband is an Irishman. This triple blessed event seems to confirm a claim as to multiple births. It is said that a woman in her late thirties or early forties is more likely to become the mother of triplets than the females of any other age. Especially, if she is married to a man of Irish birth or descent. So, lady, if you are crowding forty and married to an Irishman you, too, may have twins or triplets for your next blessed event.

Predestination Of Sex

Know anybody with an all-daughter family who would like to have a son around the house? Or somebody with nothing but sons who would like the lady to have a sister? Have they the price of a round trip to Italy? In the mountain village of San Vito Di Valle Castellana, Italy, there is reported to be a man named Antonio Sabatucci who seems to have solved the problem of the predestination of sex. Everybody he has advised is said to have succeeded in having the kind of child they wanted. Senator Sabatucci wants the Italian government to give official recognition to his method and then he will give it to the world. Having solved the problem of the pre-determination of sex, Senator Sabatucci is currently engaged on trying to originate a method providing for the arrangement for twins in advance.

Wheeled framework around the plane is the lift mechanism which hoists it into its tail in take-off position.

Successful Cattle Sale At Brooks

BROOKS, Alta. — In the first public auction sale this year of fat cattle in this district, 431 head were sold for a total of $71,127.35. Sellers were well pleased, because they topped the Calgary market that day, with one head of top steers going for $18.10. The Alberta Livestock Co-operative of Calgary combined with the Bow Slope Shipping Association in sponsoring the sale. Archie Boyce, well-known auctioneer from Olds, wielded the hammer. The new buyers' stand at the local stockyards, completely enclosed with windows facing on the auction ring, found much favor with the visitors.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THAT COAL POLICY?

(Reprinted from The Calgary Herald)

IT WOULD BE foolish, naturally, to suggest that the Alberta coal industry at the moment presents a cheerful picture; it does not. But it is important to distinguish between impending disaster (which has been somewhat irresponsibly predicted in various quarters) and from unexpected adjustment to the conditions of a smaller market.

The provincial government's plan to provide transitional help in order to minimize the discomfort of those most directly affected by the readjustment — i.e., the miners now out of work — is in the main sensible in that its objective is to enable them to find other means of making a living. There are other aspects of the plan which are less sensible, and we propose to discuss them in more detail later; for the present, our purpose is to examine the present state of the industry and endeavor to put it in perspective.

Faced with declining markets and with competition from petroleum products which, in many cases it has no conceivable way of beating, the industry is engaged in retrenchment. In other words it is adjusting its capacity to the foreseeable demand and making every possible reduction in its overhead. The Coleman Collieries for example, can produce as much coal with a reduced force of just over 500 men as they produced last year with 817 men, and a management which continued to employ 817 men at a loss when it could probably make a profit with 500 or so, would be rashly irresponsible, and betraying the best interests not only of the owners but of the men it employed. It is clearly better to have a few mines operating at a profit than a great many more operating at a loss.

There has been much exaggeration of the amount of federal assistance which the Western mines have received. The maximum subvention paid on any coal shipped to Ontario is now $3.50 a ton, and the amount is lower for coal shipped over shorter distances. The whole federal subvention paid last year, when spread over the total production of Alberta and Eastern B. C. mines, amounted to 11 cents a ton. This can scarcely be described as subsidization on a lavish scale.

From the national viewpoint, however, coal is a strategic reserve of great importance, and there is a strong case to be made out for measures to keep the coal industry in being, against the day when the nation may stand in sore need of its own supplies. Once abandoned, coal mines cannot be re-opened overnight, and considered purely as a strategic resource — quite apart from the labor it employs — the western coal industry must be kept alive. Little bits of help here and there are not good enough; what is needed is a clear and coherent national policy, formulated by the federal government, to maintain the western mines at a healthy level of activity. The cost, in national terms, would not be great, and the returns would come in the form of a coal industry, in being, which could meet the nation's needs whenever those needs arise. And it seems to us that the time for action along these lines has come.

Fire Department Ready To Check Homes For Hazards

Fire-safe housekeeping is a sure way to prevent home fires, says Fire Chief Montalbet.

Chief Montalbet explained that fire hazards in the home can be controlled through good housekeeping practices and the members of the fire department will be happy to assist any householders who want to learn exactly what's safe and what's not.

He urged householders to take advantage of the department's home inspection program now, during Spring clean-up week.

Home inspections by uniformed firemen are being promoted everywhere by the International Association of Fire Chiefs, according to Chief Montalbet. The purpose is to uncover fire hazards, not to search for violations of regulations. The fireman making an inspection determines what hazards exist and recommends ways of eliminating them in order to protect the house and its occupants.

The program is voluntary on the part of the householder, Chief Montalbet said, and it really pays off. A number of communities have substantially cut the loss of life and property from fire through home inspections.

1.—Are your dust mops safely cared for and oily rags kept in safe metal containers?

2.—Do you keep your home tools, machinery, motors and appliances serviced and clean?

3.—Do you use 15 ampere fuses . . . and do you promptly replace worn or damaged cords?

4.—Do you keep weathered surfaces in and out of the house painted . . . and do you remove and replace old, rotting wood and fencing?

5.—Do you have plenty of well designed ash trays always handy for smokers?

6.—Is your roof in good repair; is it protected by fire-resistant asphalt shingles, metal slate, tile or asbestos roofing?

7.—Do you co-operate with charity drives for paper and trash; salvage your cast off clothing, furniture, etc., or contribute it to rummage sales (don't forget to take the papers in neat bundles)?

8.—Do you have your chimney and heating system cleaned at least once a year?

A BIG MOVE—The large barn pictured above is on its way from its original location near St. Benedict to its new spot near Cudworth, Sask. The building which is 38 feet by 110 feet is said to be the largest building ever to be moved in one piece in Saskatchewan. Forty-two feet high, loaded, the building weighed 70 ton with 20 ton of equipment needed to carry it. Built in 1926 from 3½ cars of top grade lumber the barn was transported across country 16 miles in 38½ hours actual travelling time; the complete job took a total of 149 hours lifting, moving and setting down on concrete footing. The big move was handled by F. W. Schoemaker, moving contractor of Melfort.

CAR GETS HYDRAULIC LIFT—The tremendous pressure from a broken fire hydrant holds this car suspended after it broke off the fire plug in Los Angeles. A few minutes later the car settled down and straddled the hydrant allowing the owner to climb out wet, but otherwise unharmed.

IF IT WERE ONLY MARILYN—A "movie queen" bursts from the "screen" to embrace a bespectacled 3-D film "viewer" during a parade in Cologne, Germany. The motto of this float was "3-D With Feeling".

AUSTRALIAN SCENE STEALER—Little Douglas Macrae, 21-month-old Australian youngster, grabs the spotlight from aboriginal dancers as he strolls on the dais occupied by Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh at Toowoomba, Australia. The Duke reaches for the youngster, who oblivious of the royal guests, watches one of the dancers perform with a spear. The dancers travelled 1,500 miles to appear before the royal couple during their tour of Queensland state.

BREAKS SOUND BARRIER—Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands is checked out by Pilot Joe Lynch before they take off in a two-seater Sabre jet trainer, which the Prince flew faster than the sonic barrier, at Los Angeles, Calif.

GERM CIRCULATION

Germs can be effectively distributed from one customer to another by means of cracked and chipped dishes in public eating places. It is difficult to cleanse such dishes thoroughly and the articles become a breeding place for disease germs. Any food served on cracked dishes or with soiled tableware should be rejected by the customer. A report to the local health department will always help to have insanitary conditions in restaurants cleaned up.

LITTLE SUCKER—Maryanne Perry of Rochester, N.Y., is a big girl at the age of seven and a half months. Maryanne disregards the bottle and nipple and drinks liquids through a straw, an unusual feat for a child her age.

THE AMERICAN WAY—Common sense, not political prestige, determines who needs an umbrella most. While President Eisenhower, (left), walks along in the Washington rain, Press Secretary James Hagerty holds an umbrella for his assistant, Murray Snyder, (right), who isn't wearing a raincoat.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

Silver Chords

By Alice Fisher

OLD Mrs. Temple peered over her grannies, mischievous look on her wrinkled face. The winter had been long, but now the chickens were pecking in the barnyard, lambs and calves gambled in the meadow, and the tourists would soon be back. The thought made her gleeful. She was lonely for the tourists, with their gay ways and little gifts.

She trotted briskly about, without a thought to the way Johnny and old Doc worried about her ailing. She wasn't ailing now, she felt fine.

She wouldn't have felt so good, if she had known that Johnny was haunting the Cooper farm, courting the new school teacher. For thirty years he had been loyal to his Ma. But at last he was in love, and worried about what to do about it. Until now he had silently accepted the sole burden of her care.

Once or twice he had noticed the idea of branching out for himself, but Ma's heart was a most convenient organ. The thought of her boy leaving grieved her the palpitations, and she could fade into subject weakness.

Once Bob, his brother-in-law, sensing Johnny's restiveness, had suggested: "This place is too big for two."

They had been gathered at supper, and Ma had just been sparkling at the strawberry shortcake.

Spring Smiles Goodbye to Winter

*Golf Widows*,
*Curling Widows*,
Now *Hockey Widows*

HANNA, Alta. — Everyone has heard of a "golf widow", a "curling widow", but few until this winter have seen the "hockey widow". With the game gaining such public support this winter, there are some "better halves" who will be glad to see the season end and dally come home for a change. One ancient male fan, (no family) was admonished by his wife for his continual tick to the arena and all over the country following the Hanna Hornets. She suggested he might either play on the club or "take his bed and board down to the arena."

With that kind of support the Hornets should be nightly pleased, even though some of the female population look upon them as a means of drawing papa away from the fireplace on a cold night!

He ships commodities like barnacles, worms, newts, crayfish, moss, beetles, water-fleas, dog-fleas, wasps and so on.

Dog-fleas at the moment are worth two cents each wholesale and these are never enough to meet the demand.

Motor Vehicle Accidents Took 414
Lives In Second Quarter Of 1953

There were fewer motor vehicle accidents in Canada (excluding Quebec) in the second quarter of 1953 than in the first quarter, but both the number of fatalities and the number of persons injured increased. In comparison with the same 1952 period, accidents, fatalities and injuries all were higher in number.

Accidents reported in the second quarter last year totaled 21,987, down from 33,324 in the first quarter but up from 25,806 in the first three months of 1952. Fatalities increased to 414 from 305 in January-March and 376 in April-June of 1952, and the number injured rose to 11,257 from 8,729 and 10,530. In April-June last year there were 119 drivers killed and 3,232 injured, 124 passengers killed and 4,965 injured, and 132 pedestrians killed and 2,160 injured. Thirty-three bicyclists and motorcyclists met death and 868 were injured.

Only Prince Edward Island had fewer accidents than a year earlier, but Nova Scotia, Manitoba and Saskatchewan had fewer deaths and Saskatchewan and the Territories reported a drop in the number injured. Accidents in Prince Edward Island were down 14 per cent, to 154, while the Nova Scotia figure was up 28 per cent, to 1,979; New Brunswick, 26 per cent, to 1,935; Ontario, 26 per cent, to 2,641; Saskatchewan, 43 per cent, to 1,931; Alberta, 22 per cent, to 3,506; British Columbia, 14 per cent, to 4,845; and the Territories, 37 per cent, to 48.

Pioneers Recall Horse-Driven Elevator At Plum Coulee, Man.

Elevator operation in Manitoba has advanced a long way since the construction of the first grain elevator at Niverville in 1879 and the Ogilvie elevator at Gretna in 1881. Progress in the grain handling field has been steady and even tremendous since then until at present a 170,000 bushel capacity elevator stands at Dauphin, a monument to Manitoba grain handling progress.

A recent interview with Louis and Jack Jackman, merchants at Plum Coulee, reveals that two of the most unique grain elevators in southern Manitoba operated at Plum Coulee and Rosefield just before the turn of the last century.

According to the Jackman brothers, Barney Ahl, now deceased, was in charge of a Lake of the Woods horse-driven elevator at Plum Coulee for several years following his transfer to that village from Gretna in 1892.

Both Louis and Jack, perhaps because they were young boys at the time, have vivid recollections of old "Tom," the horse hitched to a long beam which in turn was fastened to a drive shaft, trudging in endless circles elevating the farmers' grain.

"Old Tom never suffered while Barney had him," Jack said, "Barney kept him fat as butter, but for some reason or other old Tom committed suicide." Apparently the horse opened its own throat with a ship's hook and bled to death. He was replaced by a blind horse named "Joker."

Louis recalls riding Tom to Rosefield, where the other horse-driven elevator was in operation, several times for the handsome wage of 50 cents.

"It cost me 20 cents to come back on the train, but I still made 30 cents on the whole horse ride."

Both men clearly remember the construction of the Ogilvie elevator, with Louis having been instrumental in the erection of the tall smokestack. He assisted the river at a rate of 50 cents a day, which seems to have been a set wage for Louis in those days.

Jack and Louis Jackman, aged 61 and 58 respectively, were both born and raised in Plum Coulee. Although they are not the oldest Plum Coulee residents, they have lived in that village longer than any other person residing there today—The Altona Echo.

Asking the chemist for his favorite brand of hair cream, a young man was told it was out of stock, but was offered a substitute.

"Is it as good as the brand I normally use?" he asked.

"Well," replied the chemist, "it's a kind of superior equivalent."

"This is the most difficult course I've ever played on," complained the golfer.

"You left the course ten minutes ago, sir," replied his caddy. "You're in someone's rock garden."

The family were objecting to their son's girl, insisting that he ought to be a little more particular about the feminine company he was keeping.

"I'm sorry, dad," said the boy. "But that's the best girl I can get with the car we've got."

"But I thought I wired you not to bring your mother home with you," said the husband.

"Yes," replied the wife. "That's what she came to see you about."

Talk about persistence. Three times he asked me to kiss him and three times I refused.

"And then what happened?"

"Oh, well—one can't go on like that for ever!"

He was very cantankerous and being extremely difficult. He had found fault with every dish placed before him, and eventually said to the now weary waiter: "Have you any wild duck?"

"No, sir," snapped the waiter, "but we can get a tame one and irritate it for you."

The village nurse was trying to make old Mary take some liquid food. "Will you have some beef tea, Mary?" she asked.

"Na," replied Mary. "I couldn't take it."

"Would you like some hot milk?"

"Na, I couldn't take it."

"Well, what about a glass of toddy?"

"Aye," perked up the invalid. "Mak' it strong and mak' me tak' it."

Fed up with tipping most of the hotel staff for trifling services, the guest determined to call a halt. There came a knock on the door.

"Who is it?" he asked.

"The page, sir, with a telegram."

"Very well," said the determined guest, "just slip it under the door."

After a moment came an equally obstinate reply. "I can't, sir. It's on a tray."

Caller: "Why do you keep that goldfish in his bowl on your desk?"

Manager: "Because it's a novelty to have something opening its mouth without asking for a raise."

With The LEGISLATURE

The second session of the 12th Alberta legislature was prorogued following a final sitting Thursday night last. Thursday afternoon featured two of the stormiest debates of the 36 day meeting. Lieutenant-Gov. J. J. Bowlen gave royal assent to 76 bills at the closing. This gave the government a total of 121 legislation bills passed out of the 122 introduced. One bill was retracted.

The 1954 session, which began February 18, wound up in a maze of charges and counter-charges during the debate on final reading of two of the bills. There was a definite feeling of unrest all through the final sitting as Liberal, Progressive - Conservatives and C.C.F. opposition members rapped questions and charges at the Social Credit government. The engines broke open as Bill 101, setting up an emergency teacher-training program was being given clause by clause study by the committee of the whole assembly before third and final reading.

The break came when opposition leader N. Harper Prowse asked deputy speaker James Hartley four times for recognition to ask a question of education minister A. O. Aalborg. Prowse gave recognition, but disallowed the question because he said it did not refer to the clause of the bill under study at the time. Prowse stayed on his feet and said his question did not pertain to any clause of the bill, but to something not in the bill which he thought should have been included. Hartley replied that such a question could be asked after the bill had been studied and was ready for third reading.

Prowse objected to the bill on grounds that it did not include Aalborg's earlier statement in the house that the emergency teacher training course would last a minimum of six weeks. Aalborg replied that he had been "quite definite" about the length of the course, Prowse then charged: "If you are so definite, why doesn't it say so in the bill?"

Earlier, two Calgary members charged that the bill was a "say nothing" measure. Prog-Con. Paul Brecken, a former vice-principal termed it "the bill of the great unknown". Liberal Hugh John MacDonald, a lawyer, said it was a "half baked bill" which did not indicate the minister's intentions.

This bill had gone through a 26 hour debate on second reading, the longest debate of the session. The opposition charged that it would lower the education standards of the province by putting so-called "six-week wonders" into competition with qualified teachers. The government, however, maintained that the purpose of the short course was to fill 200 empty classrooms where qualified teachers could not be maintained.

Later in the afternoon the fireworks broke loose into a man-to-man verbal battle between Premier E. C. Manning and Opposition Leader Prowse over the government's gas export policy. The argument came when the house was giving third reading to a bill to set up a province wide gas trunk pipeline system to feed the soon-to-be constructed, transcontinental gas pipeline and to supply domestic markets.

The Manning - Prowse battle, which was the hottest of the entire session, followed a proposed amendment to delay the pipeline bill by MacDonald, who said that the bill failed to guarantee the rights of consumers and should be okayed by the supreme court of Canada before passing the provincial house because he doubted its constitutional validity under the BNA Act which defines provincial and federal authority.

When MacDonald sat down after the amendment was defeated, Manning commented: "Now that the Honorable member for Calgary has read the text of his next political broadcast, let's get on with the bill." Prowse jumped to his feet and said Manning's attitude was "clear indication of his disregard for the rights of consumers."

Manning counter - charged - "Nothing but the lowest, cheapest type of political manoeuvring." Prowse termed Manning "A master of evasion." The premier said Prowse had committed the "biggest disservice to the development of export markets for Alberta oil and gas," by his original opposition to any export of gas from the province.

Less controversial government legislation passed at the session included a record estimated expenditure of $205,000,000 in the 1954-55 budget, a new 157-page municipal act, the longest bill of the session, consolidating amendment of the Labor Act and last-minute legislation to provide not more than $100,000 to rehabilitate 600 jobless coal miners.
